

We're Creating Business Solutions For 2020

It's been a tough year, but we've continued to provide solutions for all of your hiring and background screening needs.

Background Checks Help You Succeed

The pandemic has forced employers to find new ways to operate. Selecting highly qualified candidates has become more important than ever as businesses continue to adapt. To help achieve this goal, hiring managers use comprehensive background checks that empower them to identify individuals who are likely to thrive.

Background checks can help organizations determine if a job seeker poses a safety risk. They also show if an individual has the required education and employment history for their intended position. This is essential as responsibilities expand to accommodate shelter-in-place laws and related safety measures.

Online Screening Options

Businesses must move quickly to remain profitable. They need efficient methods for screening so they can effectively onboard new hires.

Backgrounds Online offers an Applicant Entry System that helps accelerate your hiring process. This saves time by sending an email notification to the people you screen and requesting that they provide their information directly to us. It also ensures they sign the proper authorization forms and federal and state compliance documents. To use it, simply order a report and select the Applicant option when asked: Who will submit the applicant information?

To ensure that your candidates identify the message as part of their onboarding, you can customize the screening request emails your candidates receive. Options include adding a personalized message, formatting the text and setting an expiration date for each invitation.

We also offer options to order and review background checks via your preferred ATS or API. Reach out to your Account Manager for details.

We Create Solutions For You

Like many aspects of life, completing background checks can be more difficult in 2020. Numerous courts are backlogged, schools are closed and businesses are short-handed.

Backgrounds Online provides the reportable data you need to make informed decisions. We have a network of courthouse researchers throughout the entire country, options to verify employment and education information, plus a variety of position-focused searches such as motor vehicle records and more.

Moving Forward Together

We all need some good news during this difficult year. Whatever comes next, Backgrounds Online is committed to providing superior service and screening products that empower you to create safe work environments and find quality hires.

If you're experiencing challenges with your screening process, or want to discuss anything related to background checks, please contact us. Our team continues to work remotely Monday through Friday from 5am to 6pm PT.
